

3. Brandon also shared with us a story of chasing music to fill his longings. Is there something in your life that you are similarly chasing to fill a deep longing in you?
 - a. How might you surrender this thing to God, and turn to him for satisfaction instead?

4. In closing, we were reminded that God chose us and to look to Him for who we really are. How can drawing from God your true sense of meaning, change the way you approach your work? Your family? Your relationships?

5. What then are some practical ways you can turn to God for satisfaction and meaning?
